

Hiring Scorecard Template

Hiring great talent isn't just about asking smart questions. It's about knowing what you're actually looking for. This scorecard template helps align your hiring team around what matters most, reduce bias, and speed up decision-making.

Use this as a foundation to structure your interviews, calibrate your panel, and set a high bar for every role.

How to Use This Template

1. Customize the Role Name and Summary
2. Define Core Competencies (3–5 max)
3. Set Behavioral Anchors for each competency
4. Assign Interview Focus Areas across your panel
5. Score consistently: use 1–5 scale with notes

Core Competency Rubric

Competency	Description	Behavioral Indicators
Systems Thinking	Understands architectural trade-offs and scalability patterns	Articulates pros/cons of past infra decisions
Ownership	Takes initiative and follows through	Volunteers for ambiguous work; sees it to completion
Collaboration	Works well cross-functionally	Shares conflict and resolution example
Product Mindset	Connects code to user and business outcomes	Thinks in trade-offs, not perfection

Interviewer Assignment Grid

Interviewer	Focus Area	Competency Covered	Sample Questions
Emma (Recruiter)	Culture & Motivation	Ownership, Collaboration	"Tell me about a time you owned something outside your scope."
Luis (Engineer)	Technical Design	Systems Thinking	"Walk me through a system you designed and where you optimized for scale."
Michelle (PM Lead)	Product Thinking	Product Mindset	"How have you balanced user needs with engineering constraints in past work?"
Taylor (Manager)	Team Fit & Growth	All (Wrap-up)	"What type of environment do you thrive in, and where do you struggle?"
